Crew Patch

What is a Crew Patch?

A crew patch is like a badge made from material. It is usually located on the upper part of the shirt sleeve, or pocket, of members of a space crew. Each space mission crew has a specific patch design. The names on the patch are those of the crew members, and the symbols represent something about the purpose of the mission.

Use the circles below for your rough drafts. Draw symbols on your patch that show something about your mission. Be creative, but keep the design simple.

Final Version

Combine each crew member's ideas to make the final version of your crew patch.
